Will have you ever written to someone you don't know. Well this is the first time for me, so I guess you'll have to bare through it. This is all Betty's idea, so here goes.

I've heard awful lot of you from Betty, I walked to school with her every morning. All she talks about is you. I hear your going into the Coast Guards, Best of Luck in your new occupation.

I'd like to wish you and Betty all of Luck in the world. You see she told me about your plans for the future.

I'm sure she will make a wonderful wife and you will most likely make a wonderful husband for her. Well anyway

SUPERINTENDENT E. L. BOWSHER

you old. Good wh. Don't you RETIRE? NOW WE'RE
IT'S TO LATE.

Successfully regulating a school system as extensive as ours in Toledo requires a breadth of vision and of experience. Many factors must be weighed in developing overall school policies. The wisdom of Superintendent Bowsher's decisions is reflected in each school in the Toledo System. We of the Senior Class of Libbey High School extend to him our thanks for his outstanding leadership.

PRINCIPAL LOY W. RUSIE

The administrative demands upon the principal of a high school are exacting and various. In our four years at Libbey we have observed Mr. Rusie's judicious solving of school problems. We have found him to be our mentor and friend. For his wisdom in administration and his kindly guidance, we of the Senior Class of Nineteen Fifty-Four wish to express our appreciation and esteem.

With the help of Mr. Rusie, Bob Marohn and Ed Mauntler plan a senior year packed with events that are sure to be stored forever in our book of memories.

Teacher*

An integral part of Libbey was lost with the death of our beloved teacher, Ruth Anne Dusha. As faculty editor of the Edelian, adviser since its inception of the Periclean Literary Society, co-adviser of the Future Teachers of America, and former Chairman of the English Department, she contributed to many facets of school life. The myriads of us whose lives she enriched will long remember her selflessness, her enthusiasm, and her insight into the human heart. The deep and invincible spirituality which was reflected in her wondrous power of expression will shine through life's dark days. Even while grieving, we will take heart in recalling the aura of joyous faith which was with her always. In reverent remembrance and heartfelt appreciation we dedicate to her this Edelian of Nineteen Hundred Fifty-Four.

IN MEMORIAM

I am a teacher.

From the hallowed Teacher of mankind I have learned to pray.

He has taught me that my wants are very simple: This day my daily bread.

My fears indeed are few: Let me not be led into temptation.

While striving to fulfill the tasks to which my talents have assigned me, in my long hours of discouragement.

May I remember that surely never mine, but His, is all the kingdom.

When I would wish that many men might honor me,

May I then truly know that never mine, but His, is the great power.

And in the day of my success when pride might come attempting to destroy my soul,

With humble, contrite heart may I rejoice that not within this world for me,
Only for Him, will be the wondrous glory, forever and forevermore
Throughout eternity.

Ruth A. Dusha

DEDICATION

WALTER B. LYNN

A swell teacher that Libbey will always Remember..

It is a great teacher whom students accord love and respect. Walter B. Lynn was such a teacher. He had an unusual understanding of young minds and hearts. Seldom was his voice raised in anger or impatience; he taught us by being as he wished us to be. All of us who knew him revered and loved him for the fineness of his example. The human wisdom he imparted has strengthened us for the decisions ahead. We do not say farewell; for he will be with us throughout our lives as we strive to follow in his path of integrity and high-mindedness.

MERLINDA LUCAS: Lindy's hobbies of sewing and singing, much good cheer to her friends will be bringing. G.A.A. 3; Leaders Club 4.

Sleepy-time gals!
Big decision!
Plenty of work with wonderful memories!

Oh, for naturally curly hair!
Nothing's free.
Hold that tiger!

Deede and Pat go country-style.
Oh, for legs like that!
There's no business like show-business.
Libbey's can-can girls.

Singin' in the rain.
A sentimental journey.
Easter finery.
Dancing doll.

Love is in the air!
Entering freshmen inspired by Student Council.
Pedicure on stage!
Oh, for a jet ride!

Freshman Day.
Their music always soothes us.
"You won, pop!"

In December members of the Edelian staff were saddened by the death of their adviser, Miss Ruth Dusha, whose untiring efforts year after year had been so largely responsible for the continuing success of the publication. Without the wise counsel of Miss Dusha, the staff realized that it would have to work doubly hard if there were to be a 1954 Edelian. Relying heavily upon the advice and experience of Mr. Charles Martin, Business Director, and Principal Loy W. Rusie through the trials of layout, copy, and proof, the class succeeded in having the yearbook ready for the Senior Banquet, traditional Edelian distribution-time.

Janet Becker and Jane Fenner were co-editors for the year; Judy Denzig and Pat Fearnside were faculty editors; Norma Duffeck, Ann Schlicher, and Carolyn Wendel were senior editors; Rhea Altenbaugh, Donna Callaghan, Arley McFadden, and Pat Moore were club editors; Barbara Pelton, Margie Saccucci, and Susan Schnell were class editors; Susan Coulter and Anne Fanaff were snapshot editors; Dick Howland, Ned Neal, and Jim Thompson were athletic and layout editors. Mrs. Jane Roberts was the substitute faculty adviser working with the group.

A staff of twenty-one, six juniors and fifteen seniors, produced the 1954 Crystal. The paper again provided excellent coverage of all school activities and news of interest to the student body and faculty. Information for editions, which were distributed monthly by the Crystal class and by the activities office, was collected by the staff through the co-operation of the students. Membership in the National Scholastic Press Association entitled the publication to critical service.

A newcomer to Libbey, Mrs. Joanne Pierce, who graduated from the University of Missouri with a journalism degree, worked with the Crystal adviser, Miss Florence Gerdes, this year. Editors of the Crystal were as follows: Wendy Kuebler and Dick Gardner, co-editors; Virginia Potter and Paul Teopas, assistant editors; Brian Nyquist, news editor; Debbie Hill, feature editor; Don Heinz and Frank Pauly, sports editors; Margaret Eppard, editorial editor; Bill Heupenbecker, advertising editor; Diana Senff, exchange editor; Bill Winters, circulation manager; and Rita Richardson, typing editor. Reporters were Barbara Kakela, Don Robb, Carol Born, Esther Fleming, Joan Diamond, Ruth Dinkins, and Nancy Ohler.

Each year approximately twenty-two juniors and forty seniors enjoy the prestige and honor attained by election to the Libbey Chapter of the National Honor Society. The purpose of the National Honor Society, to promote scholarship, leadership, character, and service, is an objective which serves as an inspiration to underclassmen as well as upperclassmen. During the past year this active group sponsored a number of worthwhile projects and stimulating social activities. One of the bright events of the Christmas season was the Christmas party at Wendy Kuebler's home. A post-induction party for new members provided just the right festive touch after the solemnity of the induction ceremony. Joyce Frank headed the competent committee in charge of arrangements. A quiz show given by the society second semester increased the scholarship fund considerably. Jo Krueger and Darryl Hawn were co-chairmen for this money-making venture. Concluding event of the year was a spring roast.

Skillfully executing their duties were officers: James Wahl, president; Virginia Potter, vice president; Anita Thompson, secretary; William Huepenbecker, treasurer; and the three new cabinet officers: Judy Denzig, social chairman; Bob McIlvain, project chairman; and Arley McFadden, activity chairman. Much of the Society's success was attributed to Miss Jean Gilbert, National Honor adviser.

Another year of service to Libbey has been completed by Student Council. Beside solving problems of many origins with which it was confronted, the Council also originated many worthwhile schoolwide activities. It managed the freshman elections and the Thanksgiving Day Queen election, guarded the stairways before school, and sponsored the Community Chest Drive and the magazine drive. The Council also supervised the Area Sportsmanship Contest, in which Libbey placed first in the city in football sportsmanship. Among the activities on the social calendar were the dance following the Libbey-Waite football game, the dinner after the successful magazine drive, the Area Student Council Dance, "Artistry in Rhythm," and the annual spring roast. Responsible for the council's many successful undertakings were: Miss Grace Henderson, adviser; Bob Marohn, president; Al Jamison, vice president; Jean Kerns, secretary; and Dick Howland, sergeant-at-arms.

Living up to the motto of the Periclean Literary Society, "Second to None," requires wholehearted effort. The Peries displayed such effort in their accomplishments this past year. Their first activity was the outstanding Thanksgiving Mass Meeting, "Showboat," directed by co-chairmen Delores Martin and Nancy Ohler. During the Christmas season, the Peries remembered to cheer others with the traditional Peri Christmas basket. In March, new members were installed at an initiation tea planned by Nancy Rubadeux. The annual tea for Peri mothers further brightened the spring season. Final social event of the year was a dance sponsored by the girls' literary societies following their banquets May 15.

The Peries suffered a great loss with the death of their beloved adviser, Miss Ruth Dusha, last December. Miss Dusha had guided the Periclean Literary Society since its founding. Mrs. Harriett Pheatt, who became the new Peri adviser, is much to be commended for encouraging the group to complete the year successfully. Officers were Jane Fenner, president; Jeanne Ricker, vice president; Judy Denzig, treasurer; Anne Schlicher, recording secretary; Donna Callaghan, corresponding secretary; Marilyn Rosa, chaplain; and Sharon Cupp, censor.

Again this year the Philalethean Literary Society succeeded in furthering its purpose of scholarship, leadership, fellowship. The mass meeting for the Waite game was staged with traditional Phil vitality. Another project of the football season was the sale of pencils printed with the 1953 football schedule. Christmas time found the Phils bringing joy with their annual Christmas basket. As their first event of the new year, they presented a skirt and sweater dance, "The Snowshoe Shuffle," with Rhea Altenbaugh as chairman. Lysbet Hoffman arranged the Mother and Daughter Tea. The spring roast was organized by Debbie Hill and Darrilyn Schluter. Marilee Abel planned the festive banquet at the Woman's Building. Literary highlight of the year was a panel discussion on the subject of sororities.

Club officers were: Kathy McCarthy, president; Rhea Altenbaugh, vice president; Wendy Kuebler, treasurer; Barbara Pelton, recording secretary; Janet Noss, corresponding secretary; Beverly Buckingham, chaplain; Debbie Hill, sergeant-at-arms; Virginia Potter, senior censor; and Marilee Abel, junior censor. Miss Mary Kirk, Phil adviser, again gave unselfishly of her time.

Following their motto, "Nihil sine labore," the Zets rounded out another year of activity and service to Libbey. As part of their program, they sponsored the Central Mass Meeting and delivered a Christmas basket to a needy family. "The Hobo Hop," a dance held March 19 in the Libbey gym, was arranged by a committee consisting of Pat Fearnside, chairman, Virginia Meinardi, Patti Penn, Carole Marlowe, Margie Saccucci, and Pat Moore. Zet money-raising projects for the year were the selling of name cards and of senior announcements. Tam Townsend planned the lovely Mother and Daughter Tea April 7. Inspirational literary programs centered about the theme, "Famous Women."

Striving to teach good fellowship, consideration of others, the value of co-operation, and commendable school spirit, the Zets were guided by their capable advisers, Miss DeLisle, Miss Eberth, and Mrs. Dzialok, and their efficient officers, Janet Becker, president; Pat Fearnside, vice president; Shirley Eisenmann, treasurer; Margaret Eppard, recording secretary; Carole Coulson, corresponding secretary; Josephine Krueger, chaplain; Ann Taylor, censor; Ruth Dinkins, historian; and Carolyn Wendel, sergeant-at-arms.

Another Libbey year has been sparked by Forum activities. The first social event on the calendar was "The Forum Frolic," a dance held December 4 in the Libbey gym. Arrangements for this successful affair were made by Jim Thompson, Terry Mallett, Dick Camp, and Dick Beach. Profitable fund-raising schemes were the sale of tags for the Macomber football game and the sale of football player badges for the DeVilbiss game. "The Bi-Lit Ball," a joint venture of the Forum and Q.D.'s, was an outstanding social event of the year. The Bowling Green Kampus Katts played for this affair held at the Woman's Building March 6. Jon Haverman was Forum co-chairman. Bob Houck, Larry McCormick, Al Jamison, and Dick Howland planned the memorable Forum Senior Banquet which preceded "The Bi-Lit Ball."

The Forum was encouraged to achieve its purpose of benefiting Libbey and promoting citizenship, leadership, and service by its enthusiastic adviser, Mr. William Wirick, and club officers, Gordon Felgner, president; Jon Haverman, vice president; Ed Mauntler, secretary; and Dick Howland, treasurer.

 ROW 3: Wayne Oestreich, Jim Wahl, Dick Watts, Bob Charles, Frank Reece, Jack Frayer, Jim Featzka, Bob Marohn, Cliff Browning.

With the annual roast in May, the Quill and Dagger Literary Society concluded a most eventful year. As proof of their enterprising spirit, members sold victory tags for the DeVilbiss and Central football games. "The Q.D. Shindig," a skirt and sweater dance with Ron Onnenga as chairman, was held in the Libbey gym after the Macomber basketball game. In collaboration with the Forum, the Society presented "The Bi-Lit Ball" in March at the Woman's Building. Robert Charles was co-chairman representing the Q.D.'s. The club's decision to have distinctive Q.D. sweaters brought colorful orange to Libbey halls. Members hope the style will continue in future years.

The Q.D.'s were aided in fulfilling their purpose of discovering and encouraging original talent and promoting enlightened leadership and responsibility by the untiring efforts of their new adviser, Mr. Miley, and officers, Clifton Browning, president; Robert Charles, vice president; Robert Marohn, secretary; James Wahl, treasurer; and George Turner, sergeant-at-arms. Thirty-one new members were admitted in the fall.

As in previous years the Senior Hi-Y again fulfilled its purpose "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." Helpful services performed by the group were the distribution of material for the Community Chest Drive and the direction of traffic on B.I.E. Day. Among the many successful events of the year were the annual week-end outing at Camp Storer and Mother and Son Banquet May 17. The Senior Hi-Y basketball team participated in the Y Tournament. Club swims at the Central Y also were on the agenda. Frank Pauly and Ned Neal, the representatives to Camp Nelson Dodd, learned many new ideas pertaining to the Hi-Y. Speakers for the year, who were greatly enjoyed by all attending the Hi-Y programs, were George Campbell, Al Wilson, and Bill Kuntz.

Under the guidance of Mr. John Needles, the Senior Hi-Y learned to recognize and follow the true meaning of its motto "Clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living." The officers of the club were as follows: Dick Howland, president; Howard Stewart, vice president; Bob Marohn, secretary; Frank Pauly, treasurer; and Ned Neal, chaplain.

Co-operating in various activities with members of the other Hi-Y clubs at Libbey, the Junior group completed another successful and most enjoyable year. With the helpful guidance of their adviser, Mr. Hendricks, the club succeeded in promoting higher ideals among boys. Officers for the year were the following: Terry Mallett, president; Ronald Onnenga, vice president; Jack Frayer, secretary; Wayne Oestreich, treasurer; and Art Funka, chaplain. In April, the Junior group sponsored a South Side Hi-Y Council Dance in the newly opened South Side Y building.

This year, as in the past, the Sophomore Hi-Y successfully carried out the Hi-Y motto. Speakers of the year were: Joe Miller of Central Y.M.C.A.; Bill Kuntz, executive secretary of South Side Y.M.C.A.; and Al Wilson, past member of Counter Intelligence. The week end of February 6 found many members at Camp Storer. Monthly swims were enjoyed at Central Y.M.C.A. Leading the active group were: Terry MacDonald, president; Tom Smith, vice president; Tom Case, secretary; Harold Wagner, treasurer; Jim Telb, chaplain; and Bob Fearnside, sergeant-at-arms. Their able adviser was Mr. George Kiefer.

ROW 3: Ronald Lingeel, Alan Fanaff, Harold Hecklinger, Stan Burden, Barry Bunting, Wilmer Frank, Jerry Mix, Rob Fox, Dick Heinz, Jon Patton, Chuck Hopkins, Dennis Walterreit.

ROW 1: Carol Kahn, Carolyn Hoerig, Carol Nickelsen, Janet Fifer, Carol Peters, Judy Roush, Barbara Battig, Elaine Ramseur, Carol Myers.

ROW 2: Bonnie Osborne, Marilee Abel, Sandra Sanderson, Suzie Reetz, Miss Kanney, Mr. Osgood, Valerie Loos, Ann Taylor, Nancy Ohler, Clare Bowes.

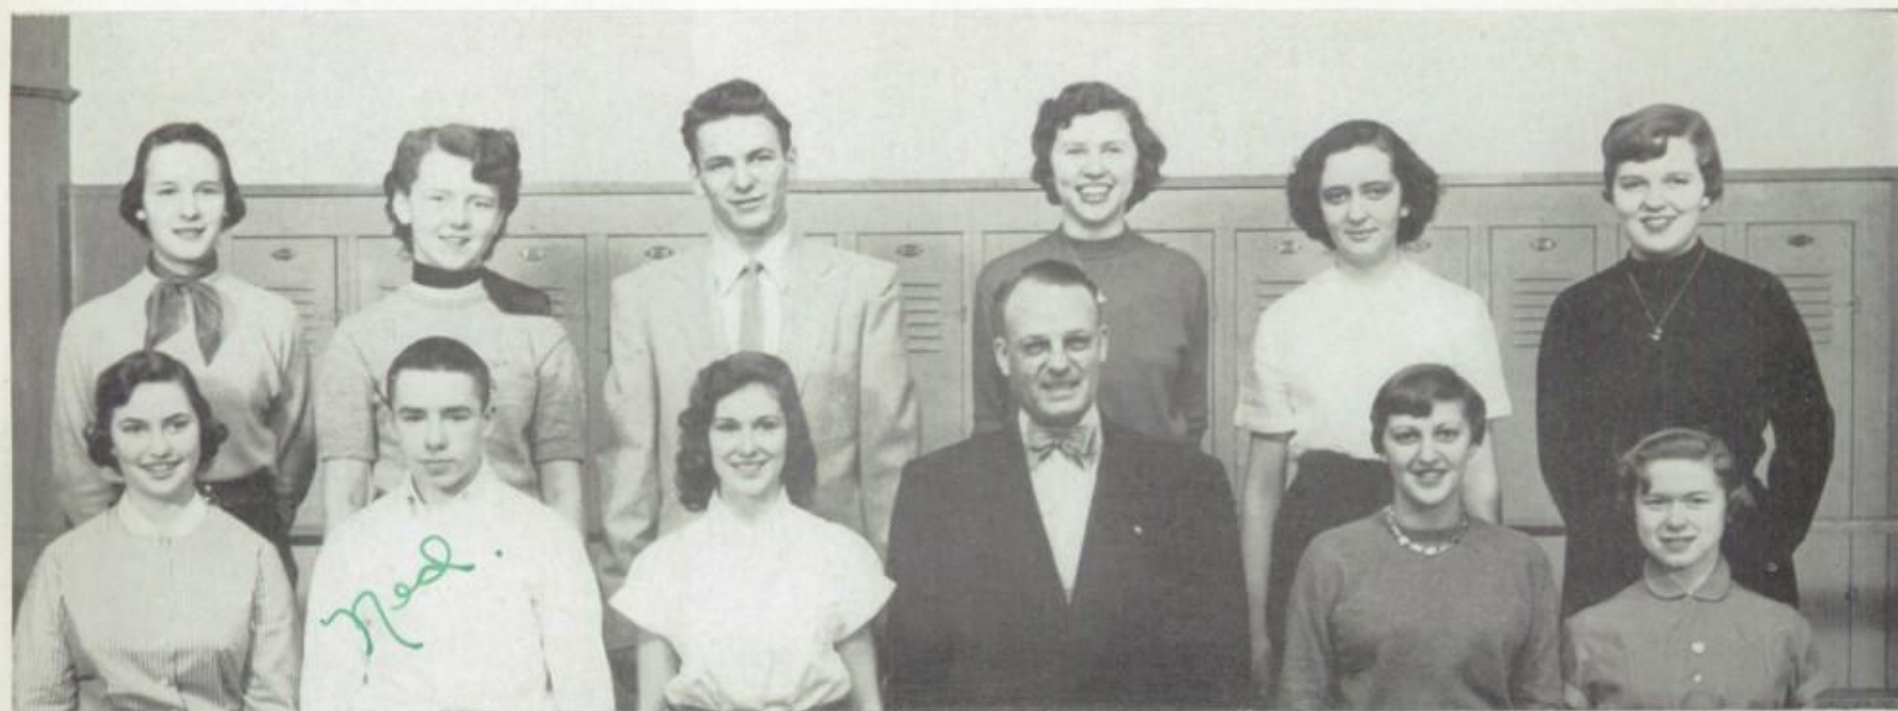

ROW 3: Judy Schnell, Marilyn Moyer, Margaret Eppard, Joyce Frank, Grace Borton, Louise Krueger, Jeanne Hards, Shirley Hepner, Norma Burkhart, Marilyn Hogendobler.

ROW 4: Judy Hess, Pati Penn, Anita Thompson, Esther Fleming, Ruth Dinkins, Jean Kerns, Janet Becker, Judy Jackson, Sharon Jones, Jackie Endsley, Carol Van Karsen.

During its first year the Freshman Hi-Y Club steadfastly adhered to the policy of promoting higher ideals among boys. One of its early endeavors was to join the other Hi-Y Clubs in opening the new South Side Y building. For recreation members attended Camp Storer during their spring vacation and participated in a splash party at the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Kiefer was the adviser in charge of orienting the new organization. Capably assisting Mr. Kiefer were officers: Stan Burden, president; Dea Wiseley, vice president; Dick Heinz, secretary; Bill DeSano, treasurer; and Bob Fox, chaplain.

Collecting attendance, recording absences, filing excuses, and running errands to the classrooms constituted the busy days of the deans' aides. These girls were chosen for efficiency, dependability, and scholarship by the deans, Miss Kanney and Mr. Osgood. Selected for their competence in the business field, the office helpers gave valuable assistance in the management of the Main Office. In the past year, as well as in preceding years, these groups performed a valuable service for the school.

FRESHMAN HI-Y — DEANS' AIDES and OFFICE HELPERS

ROW 1: Rhea Altenbaugh, Ned Neal, Shirley Wilson, Mr. Martin, Ruby Browning, Darlene Davidter.

For the splendid program of activities this year, the student body is indebted to Mr. Martin. The sale of activities tickets began during the first week of school. The office girls, under Mr. Martin's direction, also sold tickets for football and basketball games and sold coke and candy at basketball games. The new semester brought the sale of Edelians, with Dolores Martin heading the advertising, and Ruby Browning, the Circulation. Final project of the year was the Rhythm Roundup. Hard work, coupled with enthusiasm, contributed to its excellence.

Many events furthering "Peace to the World" were scheduled by the Libbey United Nations Club this past year. During United Nations Week, members read peace selections on the school broadcasting system daily and observed United Nations Day with an auditorium program. A lighted globe presented to the faculty by the group was later placed in the library for student use. The group also sent representatives to the Model United Nations Assembly at the University of Toledo. Skillfully guiding the club were Miss Irwin and Mr. Baker, advisers; Debbie Hill, president; Brian Nyquist, vice president; Barbara Pelton, secretary; Susan Coulter, treasurer; Pete Stroup, sergeant-at-arms; and Wendy Kuebler, chaplain.

As in previous years, the Senior Y-Teens of Libbey promoted understanding among races, religions, and creeds with a full program of worthwhile activities. Reverend Larson was speaker for the fine Christmas program arranged by the group. During Lent, the club joined with the Hi-Y in conducting impressive Lenten services. In October, the Y-Teens honored the football team with a banquet in the Libbey cafeteria, for which Anita Thompson acted as chairman. A lucrative sale of mums added much color to the Thanksgiving Day game. The Woodward Mass Meeting featured a stadium pep rally. Debbie Hill wrote the script for this program. The "Candlelight Cotillion," a dance sponsored by the Interclub Council for Y-Teens in February, was a gala social affair. Concluding event of the year was a splash party for members and their mothers at the Central Y in March.

The success of the Senior Y-Teens resulted from the combined efforts of the club's adviser, Miss Allen, and its officers: Beverly Buckingham, president; Suzanne Reetz, vice president; Carolyn Wendel, secretary; Connie White, treasurer; Sharon Cupp, chaplain; Norma Jean Duffeck, Y Representative.

The 1954 calendar was filled with many productive events for the Junior Y-Teens. Tam Townsend and Esther Fleming shared the responsibility for the Junior Y-Teens' part in the rousing Woodward Mass Meeting. A timely gift-wrapping demonstration was the keynote of the Junior-Senior Y-Teens' Christmas gift-exchange party. Other social gatherings were the "Jokers' Jive," an April dance arranged by Carolyn Hoerig, and a Mother and Daughter Tea April 29, for which Margie Mehlman and Karen Brown were co-chairmen. As part of its work program, the club served refreshments to the patients at the State Hospital. An outstanding speaker of the year was Mrs. Ally, formerly of India, who spoke on "Life in India."

Members of the Junior Y-Teens were stimulated "to grow in friendship with people of all races, religion, and nationalities" and "to grow in the knowledge and love of God" by their advisers, Mrs. Harriett Pheatt and Mrs. Joanne Pierce. Serving as officers were: Jeanne Hards, president; Lois Burkett, vice president; Virginia Meinardi, secretary; Margie Kravetsky, treasurer; and Jeri Ann Armbrust, chaplain.

One of the most active clubs at Libbey this year was the Sophomore Y-Teens. Endeavoring "To grow as a person; to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities; and to grow in the knowledge and love of God," the Y-Teens sponsored many service activities. They provided refreshments for all patients at the State Hospital and collected jewelry for the women patients. Other service projects included preparing a Christmas basket and sending two baskets of fruit to the Men's Ward of the Old Folks' Home. For their own entertainment, the Y-Teens held a potluck supper, followed by a splash party at the Y.W.C.A. in November. Sandra Neill acted as chairman. The group also enjoyed a Christmas party and gift exchange at the Y on December 3. Judy Niehous was in charge.

Miss Shirley Haney was the faculty adviser who ably guided Sophomore Y-Teen activities. Officers were: Shirley Falk, president; Janell Maeder, vice president; Alice Cremean, secretary; Carol Van Karsen, treasurer; Norma Raitz, chaplain; Darlene Bickelhaupt and Dorothy Katochk, representatives; and Sandra Neill, sergeant-at-arms.

ROW 3: Jed Duty, Robert King, Werner Merz, Walter Brown, Don McLean, Robert Fox, Bob Price, Bill Clark, Charles Montgomery.

The Libbey Chapter of Future Nurses of America was again profitably occupied learning the opportunities offered in nursing and the qualities essential to the efficient nurse. The eventful year included a visit from Miss Jane Sheehan, R. N., of the Toledo District Nurses Association, an informative program at Flower Hospital, and a Christmas party. To provide for their annual scholarship, F. N. A. members sold greeting cards and apples. Directing group activities were advisers, Miss Kelso and Mrs. Baird, and officers, Janice Gibson, president; Berna Leaf, vice president; Sharon LeGron, secretary; and Nancy Gibson, treasurer.

Members of the Junior Red Cross and chapter adviser, Miss Virginia May, again are to be commended for serving their fellowmen locally, nationally, and internationally. As their contribution to international good will, they artistically decorated and filled gift boxes for Korean children. On the local scene, they collected used magazines for city institutions and made cheerful tray favors and flowers for hospitals and the Old Folks' Home at Easter time. The busy officers were: Walter Brown, president; Robert Price, vice president; Nancy Czolgosz, secretary; and Patte Meier, treasurer.

The purpose of the Biology Club—"To carry out not only social ideas, but also the objectives of real biology"—has been fully realized this year. Activities included a fall roast, the annual Christmas party, and sending a Christmas basket. The closing of the year brought a splash party and a banquet in May. At one meeting, Miss Hischka gave an account of her travels in Europe; at another, Mr. Linkie, president of the Toledo Naturalists Association, explained the purpose and objectives of his organization. Miss Fiedler and Miss Pickard capably guided club activities; officers were: Paul Teopas, president; Mary Kesling, vice president; Carol Nickelson, secretary; and Dick Eubank, treasurer.

In memory of two of Libbey's beloved teachers, Miss Ruth Dusha and Mr. Walter Lynn, the Biology Club sponsored the planting of two flowering crab trees. These trees, purchased through the sale of tags to students the week of April 11, were dedicated at formal services on Arbor Day, April 30. They will stand as living reminders of the two teachers who worked so unselfishly, teaching and guiding Libbey students through many years.

"Here comes the band!" This is the excited exclamation when the high-stepping Libbey band comes marching down the field at football games. The band traditionally adds color and zest to out-of-town games as well as to our home games. This year it traveled with the student body to Springfield, Ohio, to support the Libbey team.

Arousing school spirit at games is only one phase of band activity, however. During the year, the organization presented concerts at Libbey and performed for an assembly at Central High School. It also provided a gay welcome for the homecoming of the Toledo Sox baseball team. By participating in this varied band program, talented players were afforded maximum experience in the work of a large instrumental group. Students and faculty alike join in applauding versatile conductor, Mr. Harold McClure, and band officers, John Nofziger, president; Don Crosby, vice president; Dennis Mahoney, secretary; Tony Bachman, treasurer; and Ken Steinke, sergeant-at-arms. The annual fall roast was the important social function of the year.

This year, as in past years, the achievements of our Libbey Choir were noteworthy. To encourage the holiday spirit, the choir sang Christmas carols in a downtown store. In March the group participated in the "Music Festival," the yearly concert presented in the Peristyle of the Toledo Museum of Art by the high school choirs of the city. During Lent the choir enhanced the beauty of our non-denominational observances by singing a number of excellently selected hymns. An exchange concert at Central High School and an appearance on television were other major activities. On April 8, the choir shared in the dedication services of the new South Side Y.M.C.A. A pleasurable concert for students and their parents given in conjunction with the band concluded the 1954 choral program.

Contributing to the success of the year were the gifted musicianship of Director Harold McClure and the enthusiastic leadership of officers, Dave Waterfield, president; Darla Kreps, vice president; Ann Cameron, secretary-treasurer; Don Lukert, sergeant-at-arms; and Norma Sherman, assistant conductor.

The Classical Honor Society, directed by Mrs. Pauline E. Burton, has as its purpose the recognition of excellence in the study of Latin. Members must maintain an "A" or "B" in Latin. Students qualifying for membership this year were: Darryl Hawn, Virginia Potter, Robert Price, Pat Moore, Pati Penn, William Dimke, Tom Smith, Mary Jo Aufderheide, Barton Welsh, Laurel Schroder, Brenda Boughton, Darst Grund, Robert Fox, Barbara Long, Jed Duty, Marilyn Moyer, William DeSana, and Shirley Falk. Officers, Darryl Hawn, president, and Tom Smith, treasurer, capably presided over the group.

Guided by adviser, Mrs. Pauline E. Burton, and officers, Carole Marlowe, president, and William Dimke, vice president, the Libbey chapter of the Junior Classical League promoted interest in Latin and Classical background. Inasmuch as the Junior Classical League and the Classical Honor Society observe the same motto, "Scientia arx saeculorum": "Knowledge, Citadel of the Ages," these organizations combined for work and social programs. Members profited by a study of famous Romans at alternate meetings and by educational trips to the University of Michigan, the Toledo Blade, and the Museum of Art. The social program included spring and fall picnics and a festive Induction Banquet in March, for which all students donned Roman costume.

Practical experience in interpreting and producing plays is afforded members of the Dramatics Club. The 1954 repertoire included five one act plays: "The Kid Makes Up His Mind," "High Window," "Three Potatoes for Mary," "Balcony Scene," and "Little Prison." The senior play, "The Curious Savage," was an outstanding production. "Love is in the Air," the junior play, was also enthusiastically received. Social events of the year were a banquet and roast. Guiding the club were Miss Costigan, adviser; Donald Robb, president; Sharon Mann, vice president; Janet Noss, corresponding secretary; Jeanne Ricker, recording secretary; and Wendy Kuebler, treasurer.

In its first year of organization, the Leaders Club evidenced good sportsmanship and skill. Members were given the opportunity of learning advanced sports. They also learned to assist, manage, and referee basketball and volleyball. One of the special events was the Volleyball Play-Day at Woodward, January 21, where they ranked third. In May, there was another play-day at Bowling Green University. Directing the club were Jane Meyers and Wilma Hischka, advisers; Carolyn Wendel, president; Beverly Ramsey, vice president; Mary Kesling, secretary; Diana Senff, treasurer.

The members of the F.B.L.A. will be the business leaders of tomorrow. Therefore the purpose of the club is to create an interest in business and to familiarize its members with the duties that are required in an office. During the past year, the club sponsored numerous social activities. A Halloween Party, which was held at the Highland Park Shelter House, was the first social gathering. In October the Libbey Chapter was host to the Ohio State Convention of F.B.L.A. On December 9, a Christmas Party was held in the gym with Yvonne Griffith and Connie White acting as co-chairmen. The annual Mother and Daughter Tea was given in the cafeteria on February 10. In May the club enjoyed the Freshman Roast at Walbridge Park. Grace Barton was chairman, assisted by Sandra Sanderson and Nancy Miller. In fulfilling their motto, "Actions speak louder than words," F.B.L.A. members prepared a Christmas basket for a needy family and entertained at the Old Folks' Home in the month of January. To earn money, they sold shorthand dictionaries, pens, candy, and potato chips.

Guiding the group were advisers: Miss Shirley Haney, Mrs. Mary O. Houser, Mr. John Needles, Miss Ruth Allen, Mrs. Beatrice Baird, Mrs. Hazel Flatz, Mrs. Julia Moody, and Mr. George Kiefer. Officers for the year were the following: Renee Strobel, president; Ann Taylor, vice president; Yvonne Griffith, secretary; Shirley Eisenmann, treasurer; Suzanne Reetz, senior representative; Marilee Abel, junior representative; and Darla Kreps, reporter.

Sparkle was added to school life by the humorous quips and cartoons featured in the Lib, a publication of the Art Department of Libbey. Combining their talents to produce the topflight magazine were twenty-four art students, eight seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, and ten freshmen. With "Work!" as their motto, members of the staff published three cleverly illustrated issues this year. Duplicating was done by the office practice classes with Mrs. Mary O. Houser, Director. The professional guidance of Miss Hazel E. Bartley, Art Adviser, accounted for the high caliber of the art work.

Donna

The need for teachers is an ever-present problem, and thus it is that the motto of the Future Teachers of America is "to interest good students in becoming teachers." Since its establishment the F.T.A. club of Libbey has accomplished much to inform Libbey students of the possibilities in the teaching profession and to stimulate Libbeyites to enter the teaching field. Club organization was delayed this year because of the death of co-adviser, Miss Ruth Dusha. However, under the guidance of Miss Irene Foster and Mrs. Louise Meffley, who so ably worked with the group during this critical time, a full program of work was planned and successfully completed. To provide money for a scholarship, the F.T.A. sold Libbey bookcovers. In observance of its motto, the club sponsored daily broadcasts and arranged a bulletin board display to advertise "Teacher Career Week" in March. On the social agenda were a banquet in May and a tea for teachers May 10. Officers of the 1954 term were: Ruby Browning, president; Barbara Bodi, vice president; and Nancy Reuter, secretary-treasurer.

CHARLES R. MARTIN

We of Libbey believe that we have in Mr. Charles Martin the finest Athletic Director in the city. The enthusiasm and ability which he has consistently brought to his position over these past seventeen years have resulted in schedules which have tested our teams and put Libbey on top. We wish to commend and thank him for his important service to Libbey.

HERMAN HARDING

Libbey is fortunate to have a man of Mr. Harding's caliber as Varsity Football Coach. He is greatly respected by Libbey students, teachers, and fans for the sportsmanship which he develops in his players. Under his direction, varsity team members learn the ethics as well as the tactics of football. Coach Harding's high ideals serve as an inspiration to all.

Another year is over, and once again our Assistant Varsity Football Coach, Mr. Robinson, has met the challenge of helping turn out a successful team. Preparation for the varsity squad was afforded players by the untiring efforts of Al Jeffery and Don Harris, coaches of the Lightweight Squad, and Bill Wirick, coach of the Freshman Squad. George Miley ably assisted in coaching football and also coached the baseball team.

The Varsity Basketball Team of which we were all so justly proud was trained by Coach Al Jeffery. Leo Campey, Reserve Basketball Coach, and Phil Moses, Freshman Basketball Coach, played an important part in seasoning recruits. Bill Wirick was Track and Cross Country Coach. Sprains and bruises suffered by Libbey athletes were carefully tended by Drs. H. R. Carbin, Wilmarth Paine, and C. Lewis Stevens. Mr. Orville Henrion functioned efficiently as Mr. Martin's assistant.

Dear Betty,

I have enjoyed knowing you the last 4 years.
Although our Freshman year is over we still got three more to make the most of. It has really been fun to ~~be~~ in your 6th hr. I hope you enjoyed your freshman year at Libbey as much as I did.
I hope when you go over to Whitney ^{that} you will have a lot of fun. All through junior high & first year of high I am glad I came in contact with you. Good luck in anything you attempt to do.
